

Oravec is mayor city needs

There are a couple of good candidates running for mayor in Port St. Lucie. My choice is Greg Oravec. The reasons are experience, integrity, and just plain straight answers.

A couple of years ago, I was a member of the Citizens Budget Committee. There I met Greg and became aware of his intelligence in city management and his capabilities in handling tough assignments. This committee delved into many controversial and difficult subjects. When confronted with these issues, Greg did his due diligence in finding out the entire issues and then reported to us his conclusions on the matter. Many of the times, Greg was not in agreement with the requests, but he always gave us a true and unbiased answer to our inquiries.

Greg is exactly what we need for a mayor in these times of growth and change in Port St. Lucie. We don't need a "yes man," but a man who will make the right decisions for all of his constituencies. We should do all we can to get Greg to help us and the citizens of Port St. Lucie.
