Joseph Diskin, Port St. Lucie

Letter: I'm voting for Greg Oravec because I've seen him in action

In my 36-year career as a police officer (here in Port St. Lucie as well as in South Florida and New York), in my work with the Police Athletic League, Operation Blue Angels and as the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association union president for four years, I've seen many examples of what our government does well and what it doesn't do well.

I've seen government "servants" who serve only themselves and their cronies and I've seen true government servants who take their responsibilities to heart, always working to make things better.

I've seen Greg Oravec in action during his career with the city of Port St. Lucie and I know him to be one of the smartest, most effective and most hardworking city officials that Port St. Lucie has ever had.

Our city lost a lot when the previous council decided to let Oravec go. With the upcoming mayoral election, we have a second chance to bring Greg's considerable talents and work ethic back to the city. Greg has the experience, the skills and the drive to get us back on track.

I will be voting for Greg Oravec for mayor of Port St. Lucie and I am asking the 18,000 people who voted for me in the 2010 City Council race to do the same.
