Letter: Mayoral candidate who gives me hope for newfound Port St. Lucie

It is that time again. Elections are here, and contrary to a recent letter, I do have a clue as to who I am voting for and why.

I am voting for a candidate who is a stand-up, honest individual. I'm voting for a candidate who actually has wonderful dreams, aspirations and doable goals for the city of Port St. Lucie.

I am voting for a candidate who has experience and is a professional individual, who I feel has the ability and education to take our city to the national and even the international level.

I'm voting for a candidate who can heal the wounds our city has suffered at the hands of the current officeholder.

I am going to vote for a candidate I have not heard cast any aspersions toward any other candidate and only has a positive attitude. I am voting for a candidate who really is all for the "City for All Ages."

I have only met this candidate recently, but I knew of him from council meetings and newspaper articles over the years. When I went to meet him originally, I did not think I would like him. Man, was I wrong.

After nearly 30 years in PSL, finally — a candidate who gave me hope for my town. I am voting for Greg Oravec for mayor of Port St. Lucie.
